DESCRIPTION

A bench is one the most essential elements of public space. It invites all passers-by to take a break and rest for a while. Have you ever wondered if there is a bench that combines innovative and contemporary ideas, interesting design and functionality?

We present to you our latest project – a bench that combines all these features. The bench construction can be made of carbon steel or stainless steel. For carbon steel option you can create a perfectly tailored bench by choosing a RAL color selected from our palette. Or you can have a chic bench with natural stainless steel polish. Wooden elements are made of European softwood (spruce or pine). And for more demanding clients there is a hardwood option available (iroko or sapeli).

The bench is available in two options: with or without backrest. Armrests can be added or removed upon client's request.
