Construction:

- carbon steel (s235Jr)
- stainless steel (Aisi 304)

DESCRIPTION

The Scandik bench is a modern urban bench. The style is reminiscent of Scandinavian small architecture. It has been designed with the smallest detail in mind. The simple, minimalist structure finished with light bends and bevels is sure to fit in with modern architectural arrangements: parks, streets, playgrounds, promenades, promenades, shopping centres, office buildings or railway stations.

Version 02.046.P is a bench with a backrest with a seat made of perforated steel.
