DESCRIPTION

Versi Bench was designed with narrow internal shopping streets in mind, allowing users to rest, while maintaining their own personal space. Two sections of this bench making the seating possibilities almost endless. What is more, Versi has also integral armrests. The seat is based on a stainless steel frame, with various colour finishes available to tailor the product to your scheme. Thanks to the stainless steel it can cope with the rigours of any environment. A range of seat finishes are also available, including timber slats (pine, spruce or exotic). Versi Bench combines comfort and functionality.
