DESCRIPTION

The IVO bench model 02.445.2 stretches to a length of 195 cm, making it an expanded version of our standard bench that comes without a backrest or armrests. Its increased length provides the flexibility to arrange three or more benches around a central object like a tree or table. This bench is crafted from powder-coated carbon steel available in any RAL paint color, while the seating surface is constructed from either spruce or pine wood, also finished with paint. IVO benches are available in two lengths, 165 and 195 cm, and are offered in three different styles: the basic model which lacks both a backrest and armrests, a version with a backrest, and another with both backrest and armrests. The design of these benches allows for versatile configurations, whether aligned in a row or shaped into enclosed forms. For example, the longer benches can be organized into a triangular shape encircling a tree, and a flowerpot can...
